

Dear pinball fanatics,

Quite some time ago the talks concerning a "Belgian open Pinball" tournament were started and we quickly realized it has been too long that this event has no place on the pinball diary.

After running down some ideas, checking our possibilities and looking for a first suited location we can announce you with some pride that the prestigious BoP makes its comeback at the weekend of the 4th November 2012.

Due to logistic reasons we will open a subscription form the 1st February on our website.

This subscription form does NOT count as a definitive subscription and should be seen as a survey of interest.

Since we can't guess how many people will join us in the quest of crowning a new champion so we count on your help.

This survey does offer you an advantage though. This advantage is that you will be automatically put on a list of people that get priority to subscribe for the first version of our BoP!

So please only subscribe when you really want to and can participate.

Within a few weeks and/or months we will put a lot of information online at our website and in a mailinglist.

Due to the Belgian pinball championship taking place at the 21st of april 2012(sorry, only belgian players) we will have our main focus on that tournament until the 21st.

Updates will be provided but we can't set a certain timeline on them.

We hope to welcome you at this new international tournament at belgian ground!

An important detail is that we do NOT allow any visitors due to logistic and legal constraints.

Participation and entrance at the BoP is FREE as well as all the pinball machines which are set on free play but each participant does need to pay an obliged amount to cover the expenses of the location and catering which does include some sharp priced consumption coupons.

Lots of pinball greetings,

The BoP-team
